

October 10, 2014

Solicitation for new Officers and
Nomination of Next President of MIT Sloan Society of Japan

The Board of Officers will solicit application for new officers from the members. The Board of Officers shall examine each candidate's capacity to perform the roles and responsibilities required of an Officer and decide upon the most appropriate appointments.

Also, the current president of MIT Sloan Society of Japan, Shinichiro Nakamura will end his term in November 2014.

In accordance with section 4 of the Bylaw, the Board of Officers will nominate one of the Officers to be President of the society from the Officers who has acted as an officer more than one year.

The nominee will be appointed as the President of the society upon a majority vote at the general assembly by members who have voting authority.

(http://mit-ssj.org/member\_s/bylaws.html)

//